To the I'ewn of "Oh its all in my eye Betty Martin." It's a dreffle long ways we're agoin, But our motyves are noble and grate ;-To them Fellers out west we're for showin The best way to build up a State!

They don't kno, - Poor Fellers! they don't kno That whigs are sooperfloous here Where our Party has held all the places For this ever so many a year! While there the case is quite different,-So we're goin for the good "of the Cause," To take our political notions

And frame them out there into Laws. Truman Smith, he says its for "Freedom." And Goodrich, and other chaps too; But if we should speak our convixions We'd say that's a "dodge" and a "do!" Do you think that such Critters as we be Would go such a dreffle long ways Juest merely for "down-trodden Freedom,"

If twant a good business, that pays. Why, bless ye't don't cost us a dollar For this pilgrimage all the way threw; Out there we're to have Farms and Housens And other slick property teu! Truman Smith, he's to gin all these teu us, For the good of "the cause" it may be,-If he chuses to say it's for " Freedom," Why, what does it matter to we!

Who 'blieves a Connettikut Yankee Would shell out for "Freedon" so flush, And not even expect a back a thankee? Do you think we believe it? "Oh hush! No! No! his motyve's far deeper, For he think's the People's such Shotes That when he's thus blinded each peeper They'll gin him, and Seward, their votes!

So we rekkin its a great spekkillation,-A Trade that looks both ways at once, Where office will do for the Patriot. And this " Freedom" will " do" for the Dunce : While we'll have Stores, Farms and Housens All gin to us "free"-for the " the Cause," If we'll only plant out there in scesin
